The Oregon Desert Trail:

Hiking on the Dry Side

A talk by Renee Patrick

The Oregon Natural Desert Association

The Oregon Desert Trail is one of the longest trails in the country. This 750 mile adventure traverses some stunning natural features in the high desert like the Hart Mountain National Antelope Refuge, Steens Mountain, and the Owyhee Canyonlands. Trail Coordinator Renee Patrick was the 10th hiker to complete the route, She will cover the basics of hitting the trail and share some stories drawing on her 10,000 backpacking miles and recent triple crown accomplishment of completing the AT, PCT & CDT.
